The final Term has arrived...

April 2017

Wow! Easter time has been and gone already, how time just flies! I do hope you all had a wonderful Easter break and that you are all ready for the busy events of this final term. Our first week back begins with 'Flamingo Week'. We will be busy researching our Flamingo Facts and creating some Flamingo images – if you have any Flamingo knowledge or expertise that you would like to share with us – do let me know.

The termly topic map which highlights the main themes to be covered this term will be emailed to you shortly. As expected, things will change; but do keep a look out for the notices placed outside the classroom.

The usual reminders are set out below.

Don't forget, if there are any questions, concerns or ideas you may have, please do come and see me.

Miss Mani.
